RECOMMENDED READING

This biography is about the life and times of one of our Halari Visa Oshwals and one of the early migrant settlers to Kenya from India. It is ideal reading for all age groups who have a keen interest in the history of Oshwals in Kenya and their journey of struggles and achievements.

A short excerpt:

Shri Premchand Vrajpal Shah was born in Padana in 1897 and migrated to Kenya in 1912. His first stop was Nairobi where he joined the firm Alibhai Haji as an employee earning a salary of Rs 10 per month.

He was very enterprising and fought and rebelled against injustices.

In 1919 he established a small maize flour mill. He was one of the topmost producers throughout Kenya.

He was very generous at heart and donated freely to charities for people of all races. He was among the founders of Oshwal Education & Relief Board (OERB) in Kenya and his firm, Premchand Raichand & Co Ltd, was one of the leading donors.

In the late 1950s, he left his business and turned his attention toward the religious and spiritual aspects of life. He devoted his energies to the building of the Jain Temple in Jamnagar through donations from friends and well-wishers.

His friend Seth Jivanlal Pratap expressed his wish to build a Hindu and Jain temple in London. Premchandbhai guaranteed to meet the building costs of the temple with a sizeable donation from him. But that was not to be. Premchandbhai died as a result of heart failure on 31st July 1961.

The biography is for all ages from the youth to the elderly interested in reading up about the journey, struggles, and achievements of one of our forefathers Premchandbhai. The biography is originally written in Gujarati as Kumarpal Desai's "Manavta ni Mahek".

Both the Gujarati and English versions are available at the Oshwal Centre Library.

WORKING TOWARDS A
CLEANER FUTURE

Go GREEN

Becoming A BOOKWORM

When it comes to sustainability and living for the wellness of our planet, we often overlook the large impact books and reading materials have.

Not only should these be repaired and recycled, but they should also be well looked after. If you are a book connoisseur, you know that the shift to kindle and tablet may not be that appealing yet, and you prefer to feel the pages shift beneath your hands.

How can you encourage a reading habit that will not break the bank and yet expose you to the different genres out there in the world? Each book opens up a portal that provides you with anger, grief, or adventure and it would be such a shame if you (and your little ones) have to constantly worry whether your reading habits are getting too expensive.

ARTICLES FROM MEMBERS

WRITTEN BY: AYUSHI DODHIA, CHAIRLADY OF LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Well, the easy answer to that is to join a library! I have been a member of my local library, the Oshwal Library, Nairobi for more than 20 years and have cultivated a deep love for reading, writing, and learning.

Contact the Oshwal Library, Nairobi at Oshwal Centre, Ring Road on library@oshwalnairobi.org or call them on +254 20 2364403 for membership information.

Here are some of the reasons you should join your nearest local library:

1. You get to experience shelves full of books for every reader who may (or may not) enjoy reading without spending money on each individual book. Let's face it - buying books that may not get read is quite painful for your wallet.

Tip: Start off your picky reader with books full of colorful images or comics, while introducing your little adventurer to books about the wilderness and its creatures.

2. You get access to various workshops, materials and ideas that come through the library and its staff. For example: The Oshwal Library, Nairobi has story rhyme and time for the little ones enhancing their attention span while exposing them to a larger vocabulary; craft workshops for adolescents to explore creativity; host quizzes and competitions for adult that hone public speaking skills, written, analytical and critical thinking skills that make participants more confident.

Tip: Always ask to be placed on the mailing list, so even if you aren't a member, you can definitely still get access to their events and join them if you find them interesting to you and your family.

3. With the introduction of the Internet, the kindle and other resources, libraries are dying out. They provide spaces for parents to be with their children, a study haven for young students and provide the elderly with books and reading materials with some company and electronic assistance. Libraries are safe community spaces that constantly upgrade their books to keep up with trends, bring in recommendations and give recommendations that may change someone's life.

Tip: Sign up to your local library. Sign up to their events. Pay their nominal fees so that they can continue offering these services to everyone. A yearly investment that will keep you learning, reading, crafting and of course, giving your children a habit that will make them smart, kind, compassionate explorers and eternal learners.
